

Slice of Life: KIPP San Antonio

Speaker 1:

My dreams for the future would have to be college or either the military.

Speaker 2:

I want to go get my bachelor's, go into my master's, and eventually get a PhD in mathematics.

Speaker 3:

I'm not too sure. I definitely do want to go the academia route and publish research papers, and hopefully be in a position to where I can teach others of what I've learned.

Speaker 4:

In five to ten years? Well, in five years, I see myself just fresh out of college. And I just want to be able to support myself and future dogs, because I am a dog lover.

Speaker 5:

I was looking at UT or maybe Our Lady of the Lake, but honestly, I would just like to go wherever they give me the most scholarship money.

Speaker 6:

For me personally, success is just being happy. If you can go through your life and you're happy, you're happy with where you're at and your job, your family, anything like that, you've done it right and you're successful.

Speaker 7:

If you want to go to the military, go to college, trade school, whatever it is, they're here to help you and guide you through it. They also help really well with financial stuff. I know a lot about debit cards, how credit cards work.

Speaker 4:

About loans, like unsubsidized, subsidized loans throughout college.

Speaker 8:

I mean, honestly, I've never gotten this kind of support from any other school that I've ever been to. And it's pushing me, it's keeping me on track, and it's even taught me to be more responsible and to better myself.

Speaker 6:

Since the third grade, I pretty much knew what I wanted to do with my future, and I want to go to school to be a criminal defense lawyer.

Speaker 9:

I want to go to Haiti and start an orphanage that's mixed with a school there, get funds from all over the nation or anyone passionate about education.

Speaker 2:

The future's going to be a great time. I'm looking forward to it. I'm excited. I'm ready. There's definitely someone and something waiting for you in the future. So never give up. Please, never give up.
