

Our People: Patricia

KIPP has made me better at my academics and the way I view things. And a better person deep within. And also being a person who wasn't born here and speaking two languages at home and here. So like, it's very difficult for me with like, when I come to school, I have to change to English. And when I go home, I have to change to Swahili. So like I had to balance it out and KIPP has helped me become a better person. Like before, I did not know like how to speak publicly, like I said, yeah. Like we do a lot of work to prepare for college. Right now I'm taking a lot of IB classes and those classes have helped me like a lot. It's helping me see how college is going to work and what type of work is going to be shown in college. Baylor is like my number one right now. And then it's Duke, UConn, Villanova, Stanford, Notre Dame. And I was thinking about UCLA and also the UT Austin.
